Each year, Speaking.com recognizes five speakers, within ten popular topic areas, based on: expertise, professionalism, presentation skills, original contribution to the field and public votes cast at the Speaking.com site. Over 12,500 votes were cast from business leaders, educators, association members and others from around the world for the 2014 nominees.

Kathy Dempsey partners with organizations to help them create an organizational environment receptive to change, a workforce with high employee engagement and a reduction in workplace negativity. Kathy helps advance employee groups who can change faster, shift priorities quicker and serve clients, customers and patients better as a competitive advantage.

Kathy’s most popular keynote is: Shed or You’re Dead®: How to Stay Alive & Thrive in the Midst of Change. Millions of dollars and thousands of hours are lost by organizations each year due to the inability to get employees to move forward with changes. Why do 75% of all change efforts fail? Largely because people feel left out of the process and lack the skills, knowledge and motivation to adapt to the organization’s new systems, processes and procedures. Organizations that equip their people to SHED faster and quicker will be the ones that survive and thrive! This interactive keynote session is packed with practical strategies for immediate implementation! Leave empowered to SHED for Success™

Kathy is a Certified Professional Speaker, RN and former hospital executive. When she was announced as a recipient of this award for the second year in a row, she said, “I am truly honored to be recognized by the people and organizations I serve in the midst of significant change. Being able to help people shed for success is an awesome thrill – that is the real win!”
